

The diagram illustrates the structure of the Polish political system. At the top, the President of the Republic is shown with a direct line to the Prime Minister and Council of Ministers. The President also appoints and dismisses the Prime Minister and the members of the Council of Ministers. The President is also the commander-in-chief of the Armed forces and appoints/dismisses the members of the National Council of Judicature, the Court of Audit, and the Ombudsman. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Supreme Courts, ordinary courts, administrative courts, and military courts. The President also appoints/dismisses the members of the Constitutional Tribunal and the State Tribunal. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Nat. Broadcasting Council and the Polish National Bank. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Monetary Council and the Államkincstár. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Local governments. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Voters. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Sejm. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Senate. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Nat. Broadcasting Council. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Polish National Bank. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Monetary Council. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Államkincstár. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Local governments. The President appoints/dismisses the members of the Voters.

